Going to Build This Year?

That it is cheaper in the long run to build than it is to rent is a conceded fact. One year's rentals amount to twice as much as the interest on a building investment. Money saved is money earned—don't rent, when you can save money by building a home of your own.

We can supply you with

Have you READ the ADVERTISERS

It has been fun this week to see the boys get behind buildings and smoke a cigarette. And it is told that some are selling cigarettes and others are allowing smoking on their premises. In several places arrests have already been made. It don't pay to buck the law, even if you don't like it.

The necessary papers are in the Governor's hands for him to declare HAYS a city of the second class. But it will not be in time for the April election, as a full set of officers will have to be elected and a new election held later to elect officers by wards.

Our citizens generally approve of the "Free Press" suggestion that the Normal Regents now use some of the wheat-rent money and put in a permanent cement dam on the second campus. A good one can be put in near the present one for $300 that would never go out. They would also like to see one go in the Public Park grounds to make lots of water there.

It is shown that Governor Stubbs selected his men and sent their names to the Senate of those he desired to help his administration without consulting them as four have tendered their resignations since confirmation. Revercraft as Tax Commissioner, Murdock as Fish and Game Warden, Carpenter as Agricultural and Davidson as Normal Regents, but he has persuaded them to serve a while until he can select others. This is like his railroad work, he selected what he thought to be the best men for the positions.

Governor Stubbs recognized our citizen, W. B. Ham by appointing him as one of the Regents of the State Normal School. Associated with him on the same board is Mr. Sheffield Ingalls, who is a warm admirer of our distinguished citizen. Mr. Ham will make one of the best officials the State Normal has had. Gov. Stubbs is to be congratulated on the entire collection of appointments for the educational institutions, all of whom are men of the greatest worth and ability.—Rooks Co. Record.

Arthur Capper, who was appointed one of the regents of the State Agricultural college by Governor Stubbs, has declined the appointment and notified Governor Stubbs to that effect.

"I did not feel that I had the time to spare from my business," said Mr. Capper. "Of course I was very grateful for the recognition which the appointment gave me, but it is too important a position for me to accept. I would have to acquaint myself with the needs of the school besides taking considerable time from my business, which I could not spare. Then I am not a college man, most of my education having been secured in a country printing office. I am sure that Governor Stubbs could find some one better fitted for the office than I. However, I am greatly interested in the college and will do whatever I can to further her interests."

At the request of the Governor, Mr. Capper will hold the office for a while and help carry out the policies of the new administration.

Agricultural College Regents.

Their paper says: "Governor Stubbs has appointed three new Regents for the Agricultural College, Arthur Capper, editor of the Topeka Capital; ex-Senator Harris of Lawrence and W. J. Todd of Maple Hill. All three are well known public men of high standing and their appointment is entirely satisfactory. Mr. Capper is the organizer and head of the largest publishing house in the west. He is a man of a practical turn of mind, but broad in every way. Mr. Harris has been a State Senator from his county and has represented Kansas in the United States Senate. Two years ago he was the Democratic candidate for the Governor's office and ran way ahead of his ticket. He is a farmer and stock raiser—one of the pioneer short-horn breeders and importers of the west. Mr. Todd is known all over the State as a model farmer and stockman, the owner of one of the finest farms in Central Kansas, a man of good views and practical things. The great technical school will be safe in the care of these Regents."

Luxury and Economy Coffee "LEE" Sensation Coffee

Is the cream of Coffee that affords real coffee luxury. In use, it is as economical as pure, rich cream at a slight advance in price over milk.

Every cent of expense added to coffee in the various moves and processes from the tree to the cup is the same on either high or low grade. In one case the price means value; in the other, largely accumulated expense.

If you want luxury and economy combined, ask your grocer for

Mrs. Jonah Nulton Dead.

We deeply regret to record the death of Mrs. Jonah Nulton of our city which occurred last Sunday morning. She came here many years ago with her husband and located on a homestead east of town and was a hard worker. But as old age drew near they moved to town, built a cozy home and were enjoying life when she was called to come away and the happy Christian spirit passed to that glorious home beyond the skies.

Her husband and family have the sympathy of this whole community, while she will be long remembered by her many friends.

OBITUARY

Mary A. Winters was born in Lucerne county, Pennsylvania, on the seventeenth day of April, 1859, and died at her home in Hays, Kansas, March fourteenth 1909, having lived nearly fifty years.

She grew to young womanhood in her native state, and was married to Jonah Nulton June 25th, 1876. The following February 1877 with her husband she left her home and early childhood friends and companions and came to Ellis county, Kansas, where for thirty-two years she has lived the life of a Kansas wife and mother. Nine children have been born to her, six girls, Jennie and Nellie who are married and living in Manhattan, Ida, Edna and Florence still at home, Mary who died at the age of six months and three boys Charles, John and Roger. Mrs. Nulton united with the Methodist Episcopal Church in Hays October 16, 1892, in the days when the church was having a hard struggle. For nearly seventeen years she has been numbered among the people "called Methodist." As the sun was telling the earth of the dawning of a most beautiful Sabbath morning, the sun of the Eternal Glory burst upon her vision and she entered into the day that knows no night, "for there shall be no night there." Mrs. Nulton was conscious of the approach of death and in response to a question asked by her pastor within an hour of her death, she answered, "I have no doubt or fear."

The funeral was held in the Methodist Episcopal church Monday afternoon. The church was crowded with sympathizing friends. The text was Paul's words in I Corinthians, 15:57. "Thanks be to God who giveth us the victory." A tender mother, a loving wife, a helpful neighbor, a friend indeed, a good Methodist.
